

Short description

In the EMC in-house seminar on interference emission, we offer content customized to the requirements of your company.

We address your specific EMC topics and products with in-depth expertise and train your team on site with the same practical quality as in our training rooms in Bannewitz near Dresden.